SCH. KINEO AT PORTLAND.

Secured Good Prices on Fare of Fresh Halibut.

Sch. Kineo, Capt. Nathaniel Greenleaf, of this port, is at Portland this morning with a fare which will bring a splendid stock. Capt. Greenleaf hailed his fare for 15,000 pounds of halibut, 15,000 pounds of salt cod and 50,000 pounds of fresh fish. The halibut sold at the fine figures of 12 1-2 cents per pound for white and 10 1-2 cents for gray.

This is the first fare lot of halibut to arrive in a week, the last being sch. Corona, at this port, last Tuesday. Last sales were 8 1-2 cents for white and 6 1-2 cents for gray.

Pacific Halibut Catch.

The Pacific Fisherman says that in the first eight months of 1911 the eight steamers employed in halibut fishing by Seattle companies brought to that port a total of 13,345,800 pounds of fish; January 567,000 pounds, February 650,000, March 1,175,000, April 1,020,000, May 2,522,000, June 2,291,000, July 2,440,000 and August 2,686,000 pounds according to unofficial but carefully noted records.

The greatest increase in the operations of the Puget Sound fleet, however, is in the independent schooners, 53 of which were operated this year. In August, 1910, the independent fleet delivered 1,280,000 pounds of halibut to Seattle houses, and in August this year, the total deliveries aggregated 2,019,000 pounds, an increase of 739,000 or nearly 58 per cent.

The deliveries of the independent fleet at Seattle for the first eight months this year totaled 11,265,000 pounds of halibut; January 18,000, February 582,000, March 1,479,000, April 1,677,000, May 2,488,000, June 1,311,000, July 1,691,000 and August 2,019,000 pounds.

Maximum and minimum prices in the eight months according to sales by the fishermen were as follows: January 9 cents a pound, February 3 1-2 to 9 cents, March 3 to 5 1-2 cents, April 4 to 7 1-4 cents, May 1 1-2 to 3 1-4, June 2 to 2 1-2, July 2 to 4 cents, August 1 1-2 to 5 cents.

Puget Sound Codfishery.

The season just closed has been the first prosperous year the codfishing business has seen in five years. Prices held up well and all stocks were cleaned up previous to the arrival of the new catch.

This condition was brought about by the action of the Union Fish Company, which came onto the Sound and diverted three cargoes to its San Francisco plant. This left three cargoes on the Sound which just served to fill all the requirements of the local trade and to fill all eastern orders which offered themselves at a profit.

For the coming season there is every indication of a much larger catch than for 1910 and there must be a greatly increased eastern demand to take care of the notable surplus. Fortunately for the trade this eastern demand seems very likely to materialize; all reports from Gloucester indicating an unusual shortage of cod, and there is a remarkably good prospect of two good years in succession, last year and this. Such a condition would be almost without precedent and we sincerely hope the dealers have that good fortune to make up for many poor seasons in the past.

The fish this year seem to have been plentiful and particularly thrifty and the quality of the output will fully justify the comparatively high prices.

Herring Abundant at Alaska.

Herring have been very abundant this season in Southeast Alaska. The Alaska Oil & Guano Co., which has a fertilizer plant at Killisnoo, operated two steamers and have found the fish so abundant that they have rarely had to go more than 90 miles from the plant in fishing. The Alaska Pacific Fisheries Company of Seattle, which opened up a plant on Gambier bay this summer, is putting up large quantities dry-salted for the Oriental trade, as will also Thomas & Gurr at their new plant at Ketchikan. Individual fishermen are also putting up considerable quantities for food and bait. As soon as the halibut fleet arrives on the banks a number of fishermen who are now salmon fishing will devote their energies to catching fresh herring for bait.

Sept. 26.

Gone on Handline Trip.

Sch. Electric Flash, which has sailed on an eastern deck handline codfishing trip, is in command of Capt. Fred Crawford.

Sept. 26.

Swordfish Weighed 750 Pounds.

The men of sch. William A. Morse were considerably richer yesterday morning because on their way to market with a good sized groundfish trip they came across a monster swordfish and tossing a lily iron into it, brought it along. With its head off and the heavy sword left out of consideration it tipped the scales at 750 pounds, the heaviest fish reported this season.

Fishing Fleet Movements.

Schs. Mooween and Jennie B. Hodgdon were at Liverpool, N. S., on Friday and cleared.

Sch. Lottie G. Merchant, was at Canso, N. S., on Friday.

Schs. Clintonia, Marguerite Haskins, Pinta and Arthur James harbored at Portland on Sunday.

Sch. Dixie was at Portland on Saturday.

Made Good Stock on Mackerel Fare.

The fare of salt trawl bank cod of sch. Arcadia sold to Sylvanus Smith & Co., Inc., owner of the craft.

Fare of Sch. Rob Roy.

Sch. Rob Roy took out her trip of fished halibut yesterday weighing off about 40,000 pounds.

Sept. 26.

Oil From Dogfish Livers.

The preparation of oil from the livers of mud sharks and dogfish is becoming quite an important industry in southeast Alaska. The Revilla Reduction Works, which put its new plant at Ketchikan into active operation last spring, is handling large numbers of livers, while M. Royden of Petersburg has established a plant on a large scow, which he can move from place to place, and thus follow up the fish.

Big Halibut Taken on Handline.

Sch. Dorcas, which landed a load of bluebacks at Portland Saturday, also landed a halibut which one of the crew had taken on a handline, off Seaguin. The fish was a big one, weighing 250 pounds. One seldom hears of a larger halibut taken on a handline.

Sept. 26

Will Now Fit for Pacific Trip.

With her last catch of fish for Boston, the knockabout fishing sch. Athena, one of the crack vessels of the local fleet, was at T wharf yesterday. She will begin fitting out for a trip to the Pacific coast, where she will engage in the halibut fishery, and will be ready to start out about the middle of next month.

Sept. 27.

On Salt Codfish Trip.

Sch. Meteor, which sailed yesterday for the Newfoundland treaty coast, did not go for herring, but is on a salt codfish trip.

Provincetown Whaler Sailed.

Provincetown's staunch whaling sch. William A. Grozier has been sold and will be employed in the Cape Verde freight and passenger business.

Halibut Sale.

The fare of halibut of sch. Mystery sold to the New England Fish Company at 11 cents per pound for white and 7 cents per pound for gray.

DORY HANDLINERS HAVE GOOD FARES

SCH. MYSTERY BRINGS ONE OF THE BEST HALIBUT TRIPS OF THE SEASON.

Two of the salt bank dory handline fleet came in yesterday afternoon, sch. Fannie E. Prescott bringing 200,000 pounds of salt cod and sch. Essex 100,000 pounds. The latter fare goes to Gorton-Pew Fisheries Co., while the trip of the Prescott is on the market. Sch. Mary A. Gleason, one of the salt drifters, came along with 30,000 pounds of salt cod.

This morning sch. Mystery, Capt. Mason, is in with one of the best halibut trips of the season, the captain hauling for 40,000 pounds of halibut, and a few thousand pounds, each of salt and fresh fish, which is certainly a fine start for the new skipper.

Sch. Frances V. Sylvia is down from Boston with 25,000 pounds of fresh fish for the splitters, and sch. Kineo, which landed her halibut at Portland yesterday, came up from there with 15,000 pounds of salt cod and 50,000 pounds of fresh fish, which she will take out here.

HADDOCK WAS IN THE LEAD

ANOTHER BIG LOT OF FRESH FISH LANDED AT T WHARF TODAY.

T wharf has another big bunch of fish in today, there being 24 crafts in since last report. Haddock still continue to predominate and probably will as long as the vessels find as good fishing as they do at present in South Channel, but cod receipts are gradually improving and today there is a fine big bunch of these kind of fish in.

Five of the fresh Georges drifters have fair catches and some of the haddocks also have nice lots, sch. Matthew S. Greer, which has been fishing on Georges, alone having 52,000 pounds in a total trip catch of 81,000 pounds, this being the largest trip in the dock today.

The steam trawlers Foam and Ripple are both in this morning, each with fine trips. These steam trawlers are now running on a regular schedule, and just when any or all of them will hit the dock can be prognosticated with almost absolute surety. The pollockers in have small trips.

Prices are well down on everything but cod. Haddock are selling at $1.15 and $1.30, hake $1.25 to $1.60, pollock $1.60, while large cod are worth $5 to $5.50 and market cod are going at $3 to $4.

Mackerel Notes.

Jachim Hausen, a prominent fish dealer of Bergen Norway, writing to the fishing Gazette to subscribe for one year, sends the following news of the mackerel fishing in his section, says "the Norwegian mackerel fishing is considerably less than last year's and the last vessels arrived had only very little on board; indeed, some vessels arrived without a single fish. Prices are therefore moving upwards. The quality of fish this year is excellent, better than we have had during the last 15 years, so that the Norwegian mackerel is sure to be in great demand this season."

The last 10 days were noteworthy for the large importations of Norway and Irish salt mackerel. In all not fewer than 5,000 parcels of these excellent fish have been received at Atlantic coast and Gulf ports. New York received on the Baltic, 2,214 barrels of Norway's. Other noteworthy receipts were: Philadelphia, 1,777 barrels; Boston, 900 barrels; Baltimore, 200 barrels and New Orleans, 150 barrels.

In spite of large imports of Norway and Irish salt mackerel this week the prices of all kinds of foreign fish went up from $1 to $5 a barrel, new fat Norways No. 1, count 175 to 185 to the barrel being sold grudgingly for $32 to $35 per barrel. No. 2s are $22 to $24 a barrel instead of $19. The scarcity of fish in European centers is given as the cause of high prices here. As a matter of fact salt mackerel in New York has been offered for the last couple of weeks cheaper than it could be bought in Europe.

Fulton Market Notes.

All things considered the past week was a poor one in the salt water fish market, says the Fishing Gazette. Bluefish were cheap, remarkably so when one considered the quantity that were on sale. During the entire week there was a scarcity of ground fish. Salmon were cheap and so were the other varieties of fancy fish, with few exceptions.

Codfish.—Market cod was quoted at 3c. last Saturday. During the week steak cod brought 7c. to a shilling a pound.

Flounders brought 2c. on Saturday and 6c. on Thursday. Fluke was quoted at 2c. to 8c. There were some southern fish in the market on Friday.

Haddock was quoted at 3c. to 4 1-2c. Western white halibut brought 9c. to 10c. during the week. Eastern whitefish brought a shilling to 15c.

Hake when on sale, brought 2c. to 4c.

Pollock sold at 2 1-2c. to 6c.

New York Salt Fish Market.

The New York export market for salt fish remains dull and featureless with continued warm weather, making it advisable to carry limited stocks on the spot, says the Fishing Gazette. Shipments to Porto Rico continue in excess of requirements and law sales there seem to bring out still lower prices and offerings from some of the producers, while others cheerfully continue to consign, regardless of values, high or low.

There is a very good demand here for salt mackerel and prices are advancing. There seems to be no bareheaded salmon on spot and very little to be had just now for future delivery. Canned salmon are firm at opening prices. There seems to be very little if any, demand for smoked herring.

Shark Ate Fisherman.

Thomas Ashe, one of the best known and most experienced fishermen on the Gulf Coast, lost his life by falling overboard from his fishing smack Wallace McDonald, of Pensacola, Fla., in the Gulf, seven miles off shore and about 20 miles to the east of Pensacola bar. The supposition is the fisherman was caught by a shark and devoured before his friends could rescue him. According to the "Pensacola News," his fellow members of the crew heard him call for help, saw him struggling in the water, but suddenly there was a terrific splash and he disappeared. That section of the Gulf is infested with sharks, and it is believed Ashe's fall attracted one of these man-eaters. "English Tom" Ashe was one of the best swimmers in the deep sea fishing business.

Halifax Fresh Fish Receipts.

The total of fresh fish landings at Halifax, N. S., last week, were lower than the previous week, being 146,000 pounds. Besides unfavorable weather immense schools of dogfish have again appeared on the coast. Nets are ruined by their ravages in all directions, and the herring driven off the shore to the diminution of the catch which promised to be a very plentiful one.

Sept. 27.

Halibuters Spoken.

Capt. Lemuel E. Spinney of sch. John Hays Hammond reports speaking schs. Rhodora, Elk, Juno, Grace Darling, Kernwood and James R. Clark, on the halibut fishing grounds off Cape Sable recently.

Fitted for Pollocking.

Sch. Priscilla, Capt. Fred Wolf, has fitted for pollocking, coming down here from Boston yesterday afternoon.

Sept. 27.

Portland Fish Notes.

The principal fishing arrival Monday was the sch. Tecumseh of Duxbury, Mass., which brought in 35,000 pounds of hake. Sch. Bernie and Bessie landed about 1000 pounds of mackerel, and the Mabelle Leavitt also took out a small quantity of the same species.

Steamer Pet, which arrived here on Sunday with her boiler leaking, will be out of commission for a week or more. Her boiler was hoisted out yesterday and will receive extensive repairs before being replaced.

Smelts are again running and they are being caught in large quantities down the bay. The greater part of them have been taken in the vicinity of Great Chebeague where they were so plentiful last year. Monday 23 cases of the small fish were brought up but this number is small compared with the 75 to 90 cases that have been received before almost daily since the law went off September 15. Still the fish are more numerous than they were last year and the market is better supplied than it has been. The greater part of the silvery piscatorial specimens are being brought up by the sloop Rival in charge of Capt. William Trufant and Engineer Lemuel York.

New Provincetown Boat.

The new motor boat built at Neponset for Joseph Cabral and William Silva, of Provincetown, arrived there Tuesday. The craft is of the size and type of the Jessie D., Capt. Joseph Dutra's boat, and looks well adapted to the fishing work for which she was designed.

Sept. 27.

DORY HANDLINERS DOING POORLYSEVERAL OF THE FLEET SPOKEN ON GRAND BANKS BY CAPT. FORBES.

Capt. William Forbes of the salt bank dory handliner Fannie E. Prescott, which arrived from Grand Bank yesterday afternoon, with 200,000 lbs. of salt cod, reports that since the latter part of August the dory handline fleet had done little or nothing as far as the fleet as a whole was concerned.

He had spoken several of the fleet lately, most of whom had been to land in search of bait and all reported the same story. They all agreed there were some fish on Grand Bank and up to the latter part of August some had done fairly well, but when the bait played out and no squid came on and they were unable to strike bait anywhere, it simply knocked out their fishing operations.

The captain reports that the Portuguese fleet on the Grand Bank had done poorly. Many of them were hanging on the "Provincetown" ground and doing nothing, but waiting to go to the Virgin Rocks, and even at the latter place those which had been there had found no fish.

Capt. Forbes says that he fished all the way up from the Grand Bank to Canso bank, on clams and found very poor fishing and not a sign of squid on any of the grounds.

He also says that it seems to be the intention of several of the New England fleet to go to the Virgin Rocks this season, and some had been to land recently to fit for it.

Among the crafts Capt. Forbes spoke recently were schs. John R. Bradley, Elirt and Massachusetts.

Sept. 27.

SCH. ONATO ON THIRD BAITING.

Had Taken 90,000 Pounds of Cod on Previous Sailing.

Sch. Onato, Capt. J. Henry Larkin, was at Boothbay Harbor, Me., a few days ago, and got a fine baiting of herring and sailed for the eastward. The craft is on a salt shack codfishing trip and found fish very scarce on her first baiting. On the second baiting, however, Capt. Larkin did pretty well, so that when he went to Boothbay Harbor, for the third baiting, he had between 80,000 and 90,000 pounds of salt cod on board.

He is bound to wet as much of his salt as he can, and therefore instead of coming home with what he had, has gone to the eastward.

Sept. 28.

MANY POLLOCK AT T WHARFFISH PRICES THE LOWEST OF THE WEEK AS RESULT OF GOOD SUPPLY.

Half of the arrivals at T wharf this morning are pollockers. Receipts are comparatively light, but the dealers have a good supply on hand and prices are the lowest of the week in consequence.

Sch. Mildred Robinson came in yesterday with 55,000 fresh fish, mostly haddock, and over night, and this morning brought but 10 crafts to the fish pier. The pollockers generally were well fished, one only having small catches, the others having between 12,000 and 17,000 pounds each. Of the haddockers sch. Mary DeCosta, from Georges, had the largest fare 63,000 pounds.

Haddock sold at $1 and $1.25, the former figure being less than the splitting price here, which is $1.15. Large cod were off to $4 and $4.50 and pollock were down to $1.15. Hake sold at $1 and $1.75.

Boston Arrivals.

The fares and prices in detail are: Sch. Virginia, 16,000 haddock, 7500 cod, 14,000 hake.

Sch. Warren M. Goodspeed, 40,000 haddock, 1000 cod, 3000 hake.

Sch. Ellen C. Burke, 28,000 haddock, 700 cod, 2000 hake.

Sept. 28.

Portland Fish Notes.

Portland fishermen are doing no business these days. Practically the whole of the fleet is tied up at the wharves because of the bad weather. The blueback fishermen are especially chagrined because of the bad weather as there are plenty of fish to be caught, but the boisterous conditions have made it impossible for them to get out and land fares.

Coasters Sought Shelter.

There is a fresh northwester going outside today. It is keeping about all the shore fleet in port and out on the Pan Cake ground for harbor are one five-master, 11 three-masters several barges and quite a number of two-masters, all coasters, in for shelter.

Cigar in Stomach of Fish.

In the stomach of one of the codfish landed at T wharf yesterday by sch. Olive F. Hutchins was found a cigar. It was whole and in a good state of preservation.

Sch. Sylvania at North Sydney.

Sch. Sylvania, Capt. Lemuel Firth, was at North Sydney, C. B., on Monday with 170,000 pounds of salt cod. The catch was made in the gulf of St. Lawrence.

Sept. 28.

The bulk of arrivals here today are vessels down from Boston with fresh fish, mostly all haddock, for the splitters.

At T wharf, the dealers are looking sidewise at the Georges haddock and even all the Channel haddock are not going to market, and what is taken is at a small figure.
